On June 29, 2000, ratiopharm GmbH, Europe's largest generic drug company, purchased Technilab Pharma to establish ratiopharm's generic operations in Canada. Long before being acquired by ratiopharm GmbH, Technilab Pharma and its group of companies, enjoyed a rich history and played an important role in the evolution of the Canadian generic industry.

Founded in 1974, with head office in Mirabel, Quebec, Technilab Pharma was a prominent player in the field of generic prescription drugs and over-the-counter medications. As Canada's leading manufacturer of liquid and topical generic drugs, Technilab Pharma marketed a wide range of products under the Technilab, Bio-Chimique, Charton and Rougier brands.
