Maxxam Analytics Inc is an employee owned Canadian company and has, through mergers and acquisitions, grown into one of the largest privately owned Analytical Laboratory Networks in North America . Our exceptional service and a diverse range of high-quality analytical testing and consultation expertise support numerous industries including Environmental, Petroleum/Industrial, Government and Food Processing. Over 30 years of experience and scientific diversity are major reasons why Maxxam is a trusted provider of intricate and sensitive analyses. Maxxam processes over 1.5 million samples annually through our national network of 15 certified/accredited facilities. Maxxam is the leading analytical services company in all of it's business segments, and pioneers and innovators in many non-traditional areas, including Laboratory Management and Operations Outsourcing for major multinational Petrochemical companies
