Cereon is the place to learn about science, genetics, plants, and crops. Cereon is a leader in research on Arabidopsis and has sequenced the genome. Over 25% of Cereon stakeholders have Ph.D.s. They have come to Cereon from previous positions as graduates, academics, fellows and professors at Harvard, Stanford, Yale, Princeton, MIT, Cornell, Duke and other prestigious institutions. The high level of academic rigor and training have carried over into Cereon's projects and research.
