PEDIATRIX MEDICAL GROUP Taking great care of our patients Looking back, it's hard to believe what started as a two-physician pediatric subspecialty practice in Broward County, Florida became the modern Pediatrix Medical Group. But this ordinary business arrangement initiated some extraordinary approaches to clinical practice management and patient care. • We linked pediatric and obstetric sub-specialists to one another so they could share knowledge across specialties. • We freed them from the burdens of running a clinical practice so they could concentrate on medicine. • We granted them access to top continuing-education material so they could stay abreast of the latest clinical information. Today, Pediatrix and its affiliated professional corporations allow more than 860 physicians and 350 advanced practitioners to collaborate with one another and spend more time at their patients' sides rather than behind a desk.
