Resolution Health, Inc. is a healthcare data analytic and intervention company whose clients have used its programs and services to:a) quickly and efficiently reduce medical costs; b) identify and pursue opportunities to improve the quality and safety of care; c) enhance communications between patients and their physicians; and d) help plan members and providers make better health care purchasing and coordination of care decisions. RHI is built on the philosophy that improving health care delivery requires the transformation of raw health plan data to clinically meaningful, patient-specific information. Through its sophisticated proprietary technology, RHI monitors the care of individual enrollees to identify opportunities for quality improvement and cost reduction. These opportunities are then translated to personalized, meaningful messages that can be sent to client members and providers.
