Dialysis Corporation of America partners with physicians providing the needed balance to consistently deliver high quality care to patients with failed kidney function.

With DCA, physicians have a broad range of strategic business alliance options, which are primarily structured as joint ventures. With each collaboration, DCA brings proven systems that control costs, increase efficiencies, and ensure quality in all aspects of dialysis operations. DCA has the resources and unmatched knowledge to develop, operate and build value in new dialysis centers, thereby avoiding the pitfalls many new ventures face. Current facilities reflect the operational efficiencies that are in place to ensure profitability without sacrificing patient care. Complete project management, available financing, and facility operations management are key assets that DCA brings to each partnership.
