IBAH is a unique development service organization (DSO) comprised of three major divisions: (1) pharmaceutical formulation development, (2) US CRO, and (3) International CRO. We approach the drug development process with the end in mind-accelerating the commercialization of our client's drugs. Communication across departments makes us efficient. Flexibility helps us serve you best. Our focus on speed guarantees a timely submission and our attention to detail at every step ensures quality and accuracy. Our Commitment to Speed Is Foremost

Speed is a #1 priority at IBAH, always coupled with the highest standards of quality. Our processes and procedures are time-efficient and economical. Our timelines are aggressive and we meet our deadlines. We employ the latest technology in an effort to further accelerate deliverables.

IBAH is one of the six-largest Development Services Organizations in the world-one of the very few multinational organizations capable of managing the complete range of integrated development services from formulation through product approval. We have the ability to assist you at every stage, freeing you from the costly inconvenience of changing development service organizations as your product progresses through its development cycle.
