Medstone International Inc., a leader in shockwave therapy treatment and the first and only device approved in the U.S. for the dual therapy to treat kidney stones and now even a larger market of gallstones. The Company has been providing solutions for treatment of kidney stones for over 10 years. Medstone, the only US manufacturer of lithotripters, has recently introduced the latest innovation in transmobile lithotripsy - the Medstone STS-T. This new and state of the art lithotripter incorporates the proven and effective shock head of the flagship Medstone STS (FDA studies demonstrated that 90% of kidney stone patients have no residual stone fragments with an overall retreatment rate of less than 4%). Other new products entries include Urotables and a broad line of radiology products and full imaging systems. Medstone also provides equipment on a fee-for-service basis. Mobile, transmobile and fixed site programs are available.

Recently Medstone has introduced a new line of products - Urotables. Two versions are available - fixed and mobile. These products allow urologists to easily image and perform various urologic and endourologic procedures.

Diagnostic imaging systems is another new market entry for Medstone which utilizes our core competencies of manufacturing, engineering and factory direct service. This new series of imaging products and complete systems positions Medstone well to enter the broad radiology equipment market.
